BERLIN WILL PERMIT DYES SHIPPED HERE

Germany Agrees to Allow 15,000 Tons Through Blockade for Use in America.

Germany has at last agreed to permit 15,000 tons of dyes to be shipped to the United States for the use of American manufacturers who have been clamoring for it for more than a year and whose business has been threatened with disaster. Great Britain has already agreed to permit the shipment to reach this country without molestation. Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, made the decision of his government known in the following communication to Secretary of State Lansing:

"The German government has seen with regret, after a careful consideration of the situation, that the blockade has resulted in serious embarrassment to those American industries which are in need of dyes, and, without prejudice to its insistence as to the unjustifiable character of the blockade, the German government declares itself prepared to make a single exception, strictly limited to the shipment of 15,000 tons of dyes, the export of which has been sought by American interests for almost a year."

BRITAIN TELLS U. S. TO USE PRIZE COURTS

Admits Law More Binding Than Orders-in-Council in Reply to Protest on Blockade.

The reply of Great Britain to the protest of the United States against the blockade was received at the British Embassy yesterday. Ambassador Spring-Rice outlined its contents to Secretary Lansing, but stated that errors in transmission had necessitated repeating part of it to London before the text would be delivered to the State Department.

The only concession made by Great Britain is that she admits international law is more binding upon a nation than orders-in-council.

She insists, however, that the United States must exhaust the remedies provided in British prize courts. If this country then can prove a prize court decision violates international law, recourse may be had to diplomatic channels.

Roosevelt Loses Alaska.

Actor Changes Comedy Part And Leaves Mediocre Class

LON HASCALL.

LEW KELLY.

"The peculiar thing about 'putting over' a new show," said Lew Kelly, the eccentric "Professor Dope" of the new Behman show at the Gayety this week, "is that you never know whether the public wants it or not."

"We pulled the old stuff up to Saturday night and got the same laughs, but now that we've got on a whole new book and a show that cost a lot of money, it puts the actor in a peculiar position. It's all so new."

"We carried two complete companies and rehearsed the new show as well as played the old one. And it's hard to get accustomed to the newness of this show. The actors have to feel his way. He has to work out his points."

"The new show is as big as any Polly Company. It has twenty principals, besides a large chorus and fifteen scenes, many of which are very elaborate."

"I first portrayed my 'dope' character because of the competition in the line I was in. I was a 'fast' comedian, doing the rush work style of comedy. But every time the manager wanted some thing really good, he would get a regular actor for the good salaries job. There always were plenty of the mediocre chaps to fill the lesser jobs. I concluded that I must get up something new, and as a contrast to what I had been doing chose the 'slow-going' comedy. It worked all right, but when I decided to put it in burlesque my friends said I couldn't get away with it."

"But the burlesque audiences did 'fall' for it, and I worked up a reputation playing the part."

Lon Hascall, the gallant "Cop" and "brave captain" of the pirate submarine, "Cay-nine," is what is known as a "straight" character man in show parlance.

Mr. Hascall was very reluctant about his past life, but vouchsafed a little story about his father's idea of having an actor son.

Mr. Hascall has a brother who was a ball player, when Lon was breaking into the show business.

"I thought I was as good as Mansfield, and my brother thought he was as good as Ty Cobb is today," said Mr. Hascall. "One day, a friend asked my father how the boys were getting along."

"Well," said dad, "one boy's an actor and only works in the winter, and the other is a ball player and only works in the summer, so I have one of them to feed all the time."

CARRANZA HELD TO BE BLUFFING

Correspondent Returning from Mexico Declares First Chief Cannot Fight.

HIS TREASURY BANKRUPT

Not Having Sinews of War, De Facto Government Is Accused of Inciting Demonstrations Against Troops.

(By Arthur Constantine, Staff Correspondent of the International News Service, who is on his way back from Mexico.)

Havana, April 20.—Every well-informed American going out of Mexico in the grand exodus these days is carrying home the same story—that Carranza's fight talk is unadulterated diplomatic bluff.

The total known supply of ammunition possessed by the de facto government would not last through a before sunrise battle. It is approximately between 15,000,000 and 20,000,000 rounds of cartridges, with a few thousand rounds of shells thrown in for good measure.

Accurate information which the outgoing Americans are carrying back to the States show that Carranza's government has, roughly, about 60,000 Indian troops, giving about 250 cartridges to the man, if the ammunition were to be equally distributed among the various bickering so-called constitutional armies.

Of the sinews of war, the de facto government has little or nothing. It is bankrupt. It has, perhaps, $200,000 to 10,000,000 pesos. The munition factory recently set up in Mexico City can make only about 15,000 defective cartridges daily, and a few hundred equally bad shells. A miscellaneous assortment of worn-out old-fashioned field pieces, mostly of three-inch caliber, and a few hundred machine guns support the inventory of Carranza's preparedness.

The outgoing Americans also will tell

FLEET WILL MANEUVER OFF ATLANTIC COAST

Drills and Cruises Will Keep Ships in Central Waters Throughout the Coming Summer.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced yesterday afternoon the detailed schedule of operations of the Atlantic Fleet from May 15 to November 1. At the same time he gave out the tentative cruising schedule for the individual ships of the Pacific Reserve Fleet for the year 1916.

According to the Secretary the program of the Atlantic Fleet was not drawn with any particular regard for the foreign situation, but the entire time will be occupied with drills, cruises and maneuvers off the north and middle Atlantic coasts.

"The schedule of operations for the Pacific Reserve Fleet requires periodical cruising and exercises for all vessels of that fleet," said the Secretary. "Most of the vessels of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet will be employed during the summer months for the annual midshipman practice cruise, and for the cruises which have been arranged for the naval militia and civilians, but a comprehensive plan for the employment of these vessels, requiring certain periodical cruising, is being prepared with a view to putting it into effect after the summer exercises."

Although the Secretary has decided not to make public at this time the details or results of the maneuvers at Guantanamo and during the trip south from the West Indies, it is known that from experiments with the use of wire nets some important information has been obtained bearing on the development of devices to protect the big ships from torpedo and submarine attacks.

Try This! Your Hair Gets Soft, Wavy, Abundant and Glossy at Once.

Save your hair! Beautify it! It is only a matter of using a little Danderine occasionally to have a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, wavy, and free from dandruff. It is easy and inexpensive to have pretty, charming hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed, and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff, and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy, and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits every one who tries this.—Adv.

PLEADS IN HOUSE FOR RELEASE OF CITIZEN

Bennet Charges State Department Does Not Try to Secure Schwartz's Liberation from British Prison.

Charges that the State Department had failed to make any attempt to secure the release of one Solomon Schwartz, an American citizen, confined in an English jail for failure to comply with the registration act, were made in the House yesterday by Representative Bennet, of New York.

Mr. Bennet said that failing to induce the department to take action in the case he felt it his duty to lay the facts before his colleagues. He may introduce a resolution calling upon the State Department for an explanation.

Schwartz, he said, was an Austrian by birth, but had been naturalized in 1901. At the outbreak of the war he was in England and was sentenced to six months in prison for failure to comply with the registry act. The sentence expired in March, said Mr. Bennet, but he has never been released, although the proof of citizenship has since been placed in the hands of the British authorities.
